- 2.5 Notwithstanding Clauses 2.3 and 2.4, in the event that it is in the sole opinion of the Broker that it is impracticable for the Broker to make demand on the Client for additional Collateral pursuant to Clause 2.3, the Company shall be deemed to have made such demand of additional Collateral in such form and amount as the Broker may determine and such demand shall become immediately due and payable by the Client. The aforesaid impracticality may be due to the following (without limitation) rapid changes or development involving prospective changes:
 - (A) in the local, national or international monetary, financial, economic or political conditions or foreign exchange controls which has resulted or is in the opinion of the Broker likely to result in a material or adverse fluctuation in the stock market, currency market, commodities or futures market in Hong Kong and/or overseas; or
 - (B) which is or may be of a material adverse nature affecting the conditions of the Client or operations of the Margin Account.

2.6 The Client shall pay interest on the outstanding amount of the Margin Facilities from time to time at such rate and in such manner as determined by the Broker from time to time. Interest will accrue on the outstanding amount of the Margin Facilities on daily basis and the accrued interest will be deducted from the Margin Account on a monthly basis and shall be payable at any time upon the demand made by the Broker.

3. CHARGE

3.1 The Client, as beneficial owner of the Collateral, hereby charges in favour of the Broker in respect of all the Secured Obligations by way of first fixed charge all the Client's right, title, benefits and interests in and to the Collateral including any additional or substituted collateral and all dividends, interest paid or payable, rights, interests, money or other properties accruing or offering at any time by way of redemption, bonus, preference, options or otherwise on or in respect of the Collateral as continuing security for the payment and discharge of the Secured Obligations.

3.2 The Charge is a continuing security notwithstanding any intermediate payment, settlement of the Margin Account or satisfaction of whole or any part of Secured Obligations and notwithstanding any closure and subsequent opening of such Margin Account.

3.3 The Broker is entitled to exercise any voting right or other right in respect of the Collateral for the protection of the Broker's interest in the Collateral and the Client shall not exercise any right attaching to the Collateral in any manner which, in Broker's opinion, may be inconsistent with the obligations under this Agreement or prejudicial to the Broker's right in the Collateral.

3.4 Whenever there is any Secured Obligations, the Broker has the right, without prior notice or consent from the Client, to dispose of or otherwise deal with any part of the Collateral at its absolute discretion upon such terms and in such manner it thinks fit for settlement of the Secured Obligations to protect its interest, in particular for the Client's failure in meeting any call for Collateral or margin call made by the Broker or significant fluctuation in market prices. In event of any deficiency after the sale of Collateral, the Client shall make good and pay on demand to the Broker such deficiency.

3.5 The Client shall pay or reimburse the Broker immediately upon demand all costs (including collection expenses and legal costs on a full indemnity basis) and expenses in connection with the enforcement or preservations of any right of the Broker under this Agreement.

3.6 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, neither the Charge nor the amounts thereby secured will be affected in any way by:

(A) any other security, guarantee or indemnity now or hereafter held by the Broker in respect of the Secured Obligations;

(B) any variation or amendment to or waiver or release of any security, guarantee or indemnity or other document (including the Charge except to the extent of the relevant variation, amendment, waiver or release);

(C) the enforcement or absence of enforcement or release by the Broker of any security, guarantee or indemnity or other document (including the Charge);

(D) any time, indulgence, waiver or consent given to the Client or any other person whether by the Broker;

(E) the making or absence of any demand for Collateral or payment of any sum payable under the Agreement made on the Client whether by the Broker or any other person;

(F) the insolvency, bankruptcy, death or insanity of the Client;

(G) any amalgamation, merger or reconstruction that may be effected by the Broker with any other person or any sale or transfer of the whole or any part of the undertaking, property or assets of the Broker to any other person;

(H) the existence of any claim, set-off or other right which the Client may have at any time against Broker or any other person;

(I) any arrangement or compromise entered into by the Broker with Client or any other person;

- (J) the illegality, invalidity or unenforceability of, or any defect in, any provision of any document relating to the Margin Facility or any security, guarantee or indemnity (including the Charge) or any of the rights or obligations of any of the parties under or in connection with any such document or any security, guarantee or indemnity (including the Charge), whether on the ground of ultra vires, not being in the interests of the relevant person or not having been duly authorized, executed or delivered by any person or for any other reason whatsoever;
- (K) any agreement, security, guarantee, indemnity, payment or other transaction which is capable of being avoided under or affected by any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or winding-up or any release, settlement or discharge given or made by the Client on the faith of any such agreement, security, guarantee, indemnity, payment or other transaction, and any such release, settlement or discharge shall be deemed to be limited accordingly; or on behalf of the Client in the manner mentioned in Clauses
- (L) any other thing done or omitted or neglected to be done by the Broker or any other person or any other dealing, fact, matter or thing which, but for this provision, might operate to prejudice or affect the Client's liabilities under the terms of this Agreement governing the Margin Facility.

4. SECURITIES IN THE ACCOUNT

- 4.1 The securities collateral in the Account shall be treated and dealt with in compliance with the provisions of the SFO. In particular, the securities collateral which are listed or traded on market operated by SEHK or interests in an authorized collective investment scheme (as defined in the SFO) and are received or held in Hong Kong by the Broker ("Local Securities Collateral") shall be:
 - (A) deposited in safe custody in a segregated account which is designated as a trust account or client account and maintained by the Broker in Hong Kong with an authorized financial institution, a custodian approved by the SFC or another intermediary licensed for dealing in securities;
 - (B) deposited in an account in the name of the Broker with an authorized financial institution, a custodian approved by the SFC or another intermediary licensed for dealing in securities; or
 - (C) registered in the name of the Client or the Broker.
- 4.2 In respect of any securities of the Client other than Local Securities Collateral to which the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules are not applicable under Section 3 of the aforesaid Rules, the Client authorizes the Broker in its discretion to deposit, transfer, lend, pledge, repledge or otherwise deal with such securities to any other parties in whatsoever manner and for any purpose (including without limitation as security for financial accommodation provided to the Broker) the Broker thinks fit.
- 4.3 Any securities collateral held by the Broker on behalf of the Client in the manner mentioned in Clauses 4.1 and 4.2 or otherwise shall be at the sole risk of the Client and the Broker has no obligation to insure the Client against any kind of risk. The Broker shall not be responsible for any losses, costs, damages, interests and charges arising from or in connection with such dealing of securities under the aforesaid clauses in the absence of bad faith or wilful default of or by the Broker.
- 4.4 For any securities of the Client deposited with the Broker not registered in the name of the Client, any dividend, distribution or benefits accrued in respect of such securities which are received by the Broker shall be credited to the Account (or payment made to the Client as may be agreed) subject to a reasonable administration fee charged by the Broker. For any securities forming part of a larger holding of identical securities which are held by the Broker for the Client and other persons, the Client is entitled to the same share of the benefits arising on the holding as the share of the Client of the total holding which is also subject to a reasonable administration fee charged by the Broker. The Broker shall not be responsible for any failure in making such distribution of any party which holds securities of the Client.
- 4.5 For so long as there exists any indebtedness to the Broker on the part of the Client, the Broker may refuse any withdrawal of securities collateral and the Client shall not without consent of the Broker withdraw any securities collateral.
- 4.6 The Broker is not obliged to return the securities originally delivered or deposited by the Client but may return securities of the same class, denominations and nominal amount and ranking to the Client.

- 4.7 Without prejudice to any other rights and remedies available to the Broker, the Broker is authorized to dispose of any of the securities from time to time received from or held on behalf of the Client in settlement of any liability owed by the Client or on the Client's behalf to the Broker or a third person.
- 4.8 Without prejudice to any other right or remedy available to the Broker, the Client agrees to give the standing authority to the Broker to authorize the Broker to deal with the Local Securities Collateral from time to time received or held on the Client's behalf in one or more of the following ways (inter alia), namely to:
- (A) apply any of the Local Securities Collateral pursuant to a securities borrowing and lending agreement;
 - (B) deposit any of Local Securities Collateral with an authorized financial institution as collateral for financial accommodation provided to the Broker; or
 - (C) deposit any of Local Securities Collateral with (i) a recognized clearing house; or (ii) another intermediary licensed or registered for dealing in securities, as collateral for the discharge and satisfaction of the Broker's settlement obligations and liabilities. Such authority shall remain valid for a period of twelve (12) months from the approval date of the opening of the Margin Account unless the Client gives not less than seven (7) business days' prior written notice to the Broker to revoke the same at any time, provided that no such revocation shall be effective if there is any indebtedness in the Margin Account. Such standing authority which is not revoked prior to its expiry may be renewed or shall be deemed to have been renewed in accordance with the relevant rules made under the SFO. If the Client requests for revocation of such standing authority or the standing authority has not been renewed by the Client whom the Broker called upon to do so, the Broker reserves the right to terminate this Agreement and operations of the Margin Account and then the Client shall forthwith settle any indebtedness owing to the Broker.
- 4.9 Subject to the provisions of the SFO, the Client agrees that the Broker is entitled to retain for its own benefit and not accountable to the Client for any fee, income, rebate or other benefits resulting from any lending or deposit of the securities of the Client held in the Account with any third party for any purpose by the Broker.

Schedule C – Additional Terms for Electronic Trading Service

- Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Client acknowledges and agrees that it may not be possible to amend or cancel an instruction after it has been given through the Electronic Trading Services and that an instruction may only be amended or cancelled if it has not been executed by the Broker. In such circumstances, the Broker will use its reasonable efforts to amend or cancel the instruction according to the Client's intention but, notwithstanding an acknowledgement by the Broker in relation to the amendment or cancellation, there is no guarantee that the amendment or cancellation will occur. If the amendment or cancellation does not occur, the Client shall remain liable for the original instruction.
- 2.6 The Broker reserves the right to suspend the Electronic Trading Service if an incorrect Access Code has been input on or more than 3 occasions.

- 2.7 Notwithstanding any other provisions in this Agreement, where the Client is provided with Electronic Trading Service, following execution of the Client's trading orders, the Client accepts that the Broker may send to the Client and the Client agrees to receive trading confirmations and records (including but not limited to contract notes and statement of transactions) through electronic posting to the Account, the website operated by the Broker or the Client's email address (as provided in the Client Information Form or notified by the Client from time to time) or other electronic means in lieu of printed documents. Any such information will be freely accessible by the Client after such sending by the Broker and the Client shall print out such documents or make its own arrangement forthwith without delay to maintain its own records if necessary. If the Client insists to receive its trading confirmation and records in printed documents, the Broker is entitled to charge a reasonable fee for providing such service.
- 2.8 The Client agrees that should Client experience any problems in reaching the Broker through the Electronic Trading Service or vice versa, the Client shall attempt to use an alternative method or device, as the Broker may make available, to communicate with the Broker to place the Client's orders and to inform the Broker of the difficulty the Client has experienced.
- 2.9 The Client acknowledges that the Client has read and understood the Broker's procedure guide relating to the use, operation, security measures and procedures of the Electronic Trading Service, and further acknowledges that such guide may be amended or supplemented by the Broker from time to time, which shall be binding on the Client in respect of the Client's use of the Electronic Trading Service.
- 2.10 The Client acknowledges that the Electronic Trading Service, the websites operated by the Broker and the ORS Provider, the ORS and the software comprised in them (including without limitation ORS Software and BS Software), are licensed or proprietary to the Broker, the ORS Contractor and their agents, contractors and service providers. The Client shall not, and shall not attempt to, tamper with, modify, decompile, reverse engineer or otherwise alter in any way or gain unauthorized access to, any part of the Electronic Trading Service, the websites operated by the Broker and the ORS Provider or any of the software comprised in them.
- 2.11 The Client acknowledges that the Client has fully understood the implications of the risks associated with the Electronic Trading Service as set out in the Risk Disclosure Statement but agrees that the benefits of using the Electronic Trading Service outweigh these risks and waive any claim the Client might have against the Broker arising from:
- (A) systemic failures (including hardware and software failures);
 - (B) the Broker's acceptance of any unauthorized instructions which appear or which the Broker believes to be from the Client;

- 3.2 It is agreed that:

 - (C) a Communication sent by the Broker of the Client or any third party (the “Sending Party”) via the ORS to ORS Provider shall be deemed to have been received by ORS Provider when ORS Provider send a message back to the Sending Party expressly acknowledging receipt, processing or acceptance of the Sending Party’s Communication.
- 3.3 Notwithstanding anything contained herein, the Broker shall not be deemed to have received the Client’s instruction or executed its instruction unless and until the Client is in receipt of the Broker’s message acknowledging receipt or confirming execution of the Client’s instructions (including without limitation by posting the status of the Instructions in order journals on the website which is operated by the Broker and is freely accessible by the Client). The Broker is also entitled to correct any error in such acknowledgement or confirmation without incurring any liability in connection therewith.

Schedule D – Additional Terms for New Listing of Securities

1. APPLICATION OF THE ADDITIONAL TERMS

The provisions in these Additional Terms for New Listing of Securities apply only to any Account in respect of which the Client has requested the Broker to apply on the Client’s behalf for securities in new issue for listing on SEHK (an “Application”) on the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

2. TERMS FOR NEW LISTING OF SECURITIES

- 2.1 The Client authorizes the Broker to complete such application form as may be required, and represents and warrants to the Broker that all representations, warranties, confirmations and undertakings on the part of the applicant contained or incorporated in the application form are true and accurate in respect of the Client.
- 2.2 The Client agrees to be bound by the terms of the new issue and in particular, the Client hereby:
- (A) warrants and undertakes that the Application shall be the only application made by the Client or on the Client’s behalf for the Client’s benefit in respect of the same issue of securities and the Client shall make no other application in that issue;
 - (B) authorises the Broker to represent and warrant to SEHK that no other application shall be made or shall be intended to be made by the Client or for the Client’s benefit;
 - (C) acknowledges that any application made by an unlisted company which does not carry on any business other than dealing in securities and in respect of which the Client exercises statutory control shall be deemed to be an application made for the benefit of the Client; and
 - (D) acknowledges that the Broker will reply on the above warranties, undertakings and authorizations in making the Application.
- 2.3 In relation to a bulk application to be made by the Broker on behalf of the Broker, the Client and/or Broker’s other clients, the Client acknowledges and agrees:
- (A) that if such bulk application may be rejected for reasons which are unrelated to the Client, the Broker, in absence of fraud, gross negligence or wilful default, shall not be liable to the Client or any other person in consequence of such rejection; and
 - (B) to indemnify the Broker in accordance with Clause 10 of the General Terms and Conditions if such bulk application is rejected because of any breach of representations and warranties or otherwise arising from factors relating to the Client.
- 2.4 The Client may at the same time request the Broker to provide a loan to finance the Application (the “Loan”), the following provisions shall apply:
- (A) The Broker has discretion to accept or reject the request for the Loan.
 - (B) Upon the acceptance of the request for the Loan, the employee or representative of the Broker in writing confirm the terms of the Loan (“Agreed Loan Terms”) as agreed between the Broker and the Client, which shall be conclusive and binding on the Client.

- (C) Before the provision of the Loan, the Client shall provide the Broker a deposit, which shall form part of the proceeds for the Application, in the amount and within the time in accordance with the Agreed Loan Terms.
- (D) Unless contrary to the Agreed Loan Terms:
 - (I) the Loan amount is the total price of the securities (including applicable charges) applied under the Application less the amount of deposit in Clause 2.4(C); and
 - (II) the Client has no right to repay the Loan, in part or full, before the date of repayment in accordance with the Agreed Loan Terms.
- (E) The interest rate applicable to the Loan shall be determined under the Agreed Loan Terms.
- (F) When the Broker receives any refund in respect of the Application, the Broker has the right, at its discretion, to apply the same or part of it towards the discharge of the Loan including any interest accrued thereon and/or return the same or the remaining balance (if any) to the Client, whether before or after the repayment date in accordance with the Agreed Loan Terms.
- (G) In consideration for the Broker's granting of the Loan to the Client, the Client charges to the Broker by way of first fixed charge as a continuing security for the full repayment of the Loan and the accrued interest thereon, all the securities acquired on behalf of the Client under the Application in respect of which the Loan is provided. The Client has no right to the possession of the aforesaid securities until the full repayment of the Loan (including interest accrued thereon). The Client authorises the Broker to dispose of the aforesaid charged securities without prior notice to the Client for discharge of the liabilities owing to the Broker under the Loan so long as the Loan (including interest thereon) has not been repaid in full.

PART IV – RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

1. RISK OF SECURITIES TRADING

The prices of securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a security may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities.

2. RISK OF OPTIONS TRADING

- 2.1 Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarize themselves with the type of options (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.
- 2.2 Purchasers of options may offset or exercise the options or allow the options to expire. The exercise of an option results either in cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the purchased options expire worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable ordinarily is remote.
- 2.3 Selling (“writing” or “granting”) an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavorably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.
- 2.4 Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

3. RISK OF TRADING STRUCTURED PRODUCTS

The prices of structured products may fall in value as rapidly as they may rise and investors should be prepared to sustain a significant or total loss of their investment. In respect of listed structured products, the issuer of the structured products may sometimes be the only person quoting prices on the relevant exchange. Prospective investors should therefore ensure that they understand the nature and risks of the structured product.

4. RISK OF TRADING CALLABLE BULL/BEAR CONTRACTS (“CBBC”)

- 4.1 CBBCs have a fixed expiry date and closely track the performance of an underlying asset (for example, a share, index, commodity or currency). It can be a bull or bear contract allowing the Client to take a bullish or a bearish position on the underlying asset.
- 4.2 A CBBC will be called by its issuer when the price of its underlying asset hits the call price once it is called, the contract cannot be revived and the Client will not benefit even if the underlying asset bounces back to a favorable position. Any trades executed after this mandatory call event will not be recognized and will be cancelled. The Client should be aware that CBBC is a complex leveraged investment which may not be suitable for all investors. With its gearing feature, it may magnify potential returns and potential losses as well. In the worst-scenario, the Client may lose all of his investment. The Client should exercise special caution when the CBBC is trading close to its call price.

5. RISK OF TRADING EXCHANGED TRADED FUNDS (ETFs)

- 5.1 ETFs are passively managed and open-ended funds. All listed ETFs on the SEHK securities market are authorized by the SFC as collective investment schemes. ETFs are typically designed to track the performance of certain indices, market sectors, or groups of assets such as stocks, bonds, or commodities. ETF managers may use different strategies to achieve this goal, but in general they do not have the discretion to take defensive positions in declining markets. You may be exposed to tracking errors (i.e. the disparity in performance between an ETF and its underlying index/assets), due to, for instance, failure of the tracking strategy, currency differences, fees and expenses. You must be prepared to bear the risk of loss and volatility associated with the underlying index/assets.
- 5.2 Where an ETF invests in derivatives (i.e. synthetic ETF) or by using total return swaps to replicate the underlying index/assets performance, Clients are exposed to the credit risk of the counterparties who issued the derivatives, in addition to the risks associated with the underlying index/assets. A synthetic ETF may suffer losses equal to the full value of the derivatives issued by the counterparty upon its default or if such counterparty fail to honour their contractual commitments. Further, potential contagion and concentration risks of the derivative issuers should be taken into account (e.g. since derivative issuers are predominantly international financial institutions, the failure of one derivative counterparty of a synthetic ETF may have a " knock-on" effect on other derivative counterparties of the synthetic ETF). Some synthetic ETFs have collateral to reduce the counterparty risk, but there may be a risk that the market value of the collateral has fallen substantially when the synthetic ETF seeks to realize the collateral. A higher liquidity risk is involved if a synthetic ETF involves derivatives that do not have an active secondary market. Wider bid-offer spreads in the price of the derivatives may result in losses.
- 5.3 You are exposed to the political, economic, currency and other risks related to the synthetic ETF's underlying index/assets.
- 5.4 Where the index/assets that the ETF tracks is subject to restricted access, the efficiency in unit creation or redemption to keep the price of the ETF in line with its net asset value (NAV) may be disrupted, causing the ETF to trade at a higher premium or discount to its NAV. If you would buy an ETF at a premium or sells when the market price is at a discount to NAV you may sustain losses.
- 5.5 Trading in ETFs is also subject to liquidity risk. Although most ETFs are supported by one or more market makers, there is no assurance that active trading will be maintained. In the event that the market makers default or cease to fulfill their role, investor may not be able to buy or sell the product.
- 5.6 There can be no guarantee that an ETF will fully replicate its underlying index/assets and may hold non-asset investments. The ETF manager's strategy, the implementation of which is subject to a number of constraints, may not produce to the intended results. In addition, the manager has absolute discretion to exercise unitholders' rights with respect to the constituents of the ETF.
- 5.7 The creation and redemption of units of an ETF may only be effected through participating dealers. Participating dealers will not be able to create or redeem units during any period when, among other things, dealings on the relevant exchange are restricted or suspended, settlement or clearing of securities through the clearing system is disrupted or the underlying index/assets is not compiled or published. In addition, the number of participating dealers at any given time will be limited, there is a risk that investors may not always be able to create or redeem units freely.
- 5.8 You will not be able to buy, nor will you be able to sell, units on the relevant exchange during any period in which trading of the units is suspended. An exchange may suspend the trading units whenever it determines that it is appropriate in the interests of a fair orderly market to protect investors. The subscription and redemption units may also be suspended if the trading of units is suspended.
- 5.9 The underlying index/assets of an ETF is subject to fluctuations. Composition of and weightings in the underlying index/assets may change. The price of the ETF units may rise or fall as a result of such changes. An investment in units will generally reflect the underlying index/assets as its constituents change from time to time, and not necessarily the way it is comprised at the time of an investment in the units. In addition, there can be no guarantee that a particular ETF will at any given time accurately reflect the composition of the relevant underlying index/assets.

- 5.10 The index providers do not have any obligation to take the needs of the ETF manager or investors into consideration in determining, composing or calculating the relevant underlying index. The process and the basis of computing and compiling each underlying index and any of its related formulae, constituent companies and factors may at any time be changed or altered by the index providers without notice. Consequently there can be no guarantee that the actions of an index provider will not prejudice the interests of the relevant ETF, manager or investors.
- 5.11 As an ETF manager is normally granted a licence by each of the index providers to use the relevant underlying index, an ETF may be terminated if the relevant license agreement is terminated or if the relevant underlying index ceases to be compiled or published. Further, a regulator reserves the right to withdraw the authorization granted to an ETF or impose such conditions as it considers appropriate and such withdrawal may make it illegal, impractical or inadvisable to continue an ETF.
- 5.12 Where you trade ETFs with underlying assets not denominated in local currencies, you are also exposed to exchange rate risk. Currency rate fluctuations can adversely affect the underlying asset value, also affecting the ETF price.

6. RISK OF TRADING WARRANTS

- 6.1 Prices of warrants may fall in value as rapidly as it may rise and holders may sustain total loss of their investment. The value of a warrant is likely to decrease over time. Therefore, it should not be viewed as products for long-term investments. Certain events (including, without limitation, a right issue, bonus issue or cash distribution by the issuer, a subdivision or consolidation of the underlying shares and a restructuring event of the issuer) may entitle the issuer to adjust the terms and conditions of the warrant. Any adjustment or decision not to make any adjustment may adversely affect the value of the warrants. .
- 6.2 Although the cost of a warrant may cost a fraction of the value of the underlying shares, the value of the warrants may not correlate with the movements of the underlying index level and may be affected by the time remaining to expiry. Unlike stocks, the warrants have a limited life and will expire at the expiry date. In the worst case, the warrants may expire with no value. If trading in the underlying shares is suspended on the exchange, trading in the warrants will be suspended for similar period. Warrants will terminate early in the event of liquidation of the companies. Therefore, warrants are only suitable for experienced investors who are willing to accept the risk that they may lose all their investment.
- 6.3 If you purchase the warrants, you rely on the creditworthiness of the issuer and have no rights under the warrants against companies comprising any underlying indices. You should note that rating agencies usually receive a fee from the companies that they rate. When evaluating the creditworthiness of the issuer, you should not solely rely on the issuer or companies' credit ratings because:
- (A) a credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the warrants;
 - (B) ratings of companies may involve difficult-to-quantify factors such as market competition, the success or failure of new products and markets and managerial competence; and
 - (C) a high credit rating is not necessarily indicative of low risk. The effect on the value of the warrants by any combination of risk factors cannot be predicted.
- 6.4 The liquidity provider may be the only market participants for the warrants. There may not be a secondary market or the secondary market is limited and you may be difficult for you to realize the value in the warrants prior to expiry.

7. RISK RELATING TO SECURITIES DENOMINATED IN RENMINBI (RMB)

- 7.1 RMB securities are subject to exchange rate fluctuations that may provide both opportunities and risks. The fluctuation in the exchange rate of RMB may result in losses in the event that you convert RMB into Hong Kong dollars ("HKD") or other foreign currencies. RMB is not fully and freely convertible and conversion of RMB through banks is subject to a daily limit and other limitations as applicable from time to time. You should take note of the limitations and changes thereof as applicable from time to time and allow sufficient time for exchange of RMB from/to another currency if the RMB amount exceeds the daily limit. Any RMB conversion in relation to a RMB securities transaction shown in statements and contract notes is based on the prevailing exchange rate provided by the Exchange at 11:00am or other time as stipulated by the Exchange on the relevant trade day from time to time. However, actual RMB conversion upon settlement or on any other conversion day will be based on an exchange rate determined by the Broker as a principal according to the prevailing exchange rate.

- 7.2 RMB securities will be traded and settled in RMB. If you provide a settlement sum in a currency other than RMB, the Broker will convert the settlement sum to RMB at the exchange rate determined by the Broker as a principal according to the prevailing exchange rate. You should open RMB bank accounts for money settlement purpose if you wish to receive payments (such as sales proceeds and dividends) in RMB via banks.
- 7.3 All trading related fees (including stamp duty, SFC transaction levy and exchange trading fees) shall be payable to Inland Revenue Department, SFC and Exchange, as the case may be, by the Broker on behalf of the Client in HKD. Of the settlement sum in RMB, the Broker shall convert an amount equivalent to the trading related fees into HKD to settle the trading related fees. Any gain or loss arising from the currency exchange regarding the trading related fees shall be for the account of the Broker instead of you. You shall not have any rights to claim any gain arising from such currency conversion.

8. RISK RELATING TO RIGHTS ISSUE

For exercising and trading of the right issue, investors have to pay attention to the deadline and other timelines. Rights issues that are not exercised will have no value upon expiry. But if investors decide to let the rights lapse, then investors will not need to take any action unless investors want to sell the rights in the market. In that case, the rights must be sold during the specified trading period within the subscription period, after which they will become worthless. If investors pass up the rights, the shareholding in the expanded capital of the company will be diluted.

9. DEFAULT RISK AND COUNTERPARTY RISKS

- 9.1 Every investment products contains default risks and/or counterparty risks. Default risk could come from the issuer's failure to make payments as agreed. At time of market downturn, an issuer may default due to their inability to raise new debt to roll over or repay old one. Credit ratings are the most common tools used for assessing bond default risk. A rating represents the opinion of the rating agency at a particular point of time and may change over time, due to either changes in the financial status of the issuers or changes in market conditions.
- 9.2 Counterparty risk refers to the failure of the trading party in fulfilling their financial contractual obligations. While ratings by credit agencies represented quality assurances, investors should not only reference to the credit ratings of the product issuers, but also seek full understanding of the product structure and its exposure to the financial derivatives in order to avoid financial derivatives in order to avoid financial loss.

10. GENERAL MAJOR RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH EXCHANGE-TRADED DERIVATIVE PRODUCTS (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO THE FOLLOWING)

10.1 Issuer default risk

In the event that an exchange-traded derivative product issuer becomes insolvent and defaults on their issued products, investors will be considered as unsecured creditors and will have no preferential claims to any assets held by the issuer. Investors should therefore pay close attention to the financial strength and credit worthiness of exchange-traded derivative product issuers. Since exchange-traded derivative products are not asset backed, in the event of issuer bankruptcy, investor can lose their entire investment.

10.2 Gearing risk

Exchange-traded derivative products such as derivative warrants and callable bull/bear contracts are leveraged and can change in value rapidly according to the gearing ratio relative to the underlying assets. Investors should be aware that the value of an exchange-traded derivative product may fall to zero resulting in a total loss of the initial investment.

10.3 Limited life

Most of the exchange-traded derivative product issuer has an expiry date after which the products may become worthless. Investors should be aware of the expiry time horizon and choose a product with an appropriate lifespan for their trading strategy.

10.4 Extraordinary price movement

The price of an exchange-traded derivative product may not match its theoretical price due to outside influences such as market supply and demand factors. As a result, actual traded prices can be higher or lower than the theoretical price.

11. RISK OF TRADING GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET STOCKS

- 11.1 Growth Enterprise Market (“GEM”) stocks involve a high investment risk. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. GEM stocks may be very volatile and illiquid.
- 11.2 You should will make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.
- 11.3 Current information on GEM stocks may only be found on the internet website operated by the SEHK. GEM companies are usually not required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers.
- 11.4 You should seek independent professional advice if you are uncertain of or have not understood any aspect of this risk disclosure statement or the nature and risks involved in trading of GEM stocks.

12. RISK OF TRADING NASDAQ-AMEX SECURITIES ON THE SEHK

The securities under the Nasdaq-Amex Pilot Program (“PP”) are aimed at sophisticated investors. You should consult the Broker and become familiarized with the PP before trading in the PP securities. You should be aware that the PP securities are not regulated as a primary or secondary listing on the Main Board or GEM of the SEHK.

13. RISK OF TRADING OFF-EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS

- 13.1 If your transactions are conducted off-exchange or over the-counter, the firm which you deal with may be acting as your counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarize yourself with applicable rules and attendant risks.
- 13.2 For off-exchange derivative transactions, the risks depend upon the terms of the transaction, as well as a combination of market risk, credit risk, funding risk and operational risk. Highly customized off-exchange derivative transactions may involve higher risk associated with its complex structure and a higher liquidity risk. Highly leveraged transactions may give rise to substantial gains, as well as substantial losses, in value as a result of relatively small changes in the price or level of the underlying asset or instrument or related market factors.
- 13.3 In evaluating the risks and contractual obligations associated with a particular off-exchange derivative transaction, you should note that it may not be possible for you to modify, terminate or offset your obligations or exposures under the transaction prior to the pre-determined maturity date or termination date.

14. RISKS OF CLIENT ASSETS RECEIVED OR HELD OUTSIDE HONG KONG

Client assets received or held by the Broker or its nominee(s) outside Hong Kong are subject to the applicable laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdiction which may be different from the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) and the rules made thereunder. Consequently, such client assets may not enjoy the same protection as that conferred on client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

15. RISK OF PROVIDING AN AUTHORITY TO HOLD MAIL OR TO DIRECT MAIL TO THIRD PARTIES

If you provide the Broker with an authority to hold mail or to direct mail to third parties, it is important for you to promptly collect in person all contract notes and statements of the Accounts and review them in detail to ensure that any anomalies or mistakes can be detected in a timely fashion.

16. RISK OF MARGIN TRADING

The risk of loss in financing a transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. You may sustain losses in excess of your cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the licensed or registered person. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders. You may be called upon at short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, your collateral may be liquidated without your consent. Moreover, you will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account and interest charged on your account. You should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

17. RISK OF PROVIDING AN AUTHORITY TO REPLEDGE YOUR SECURITIES COLLATERAL ETC

- 17.1 There is risk if you provide the licensed or registered person with an authority that allows it to apply your securities or securities collateral pursuant to a securities borrowing and lending agreement, repledge your securities collateral for financial accommodation or deposit your securities collateral as collateral for the discharge and satisfaction of its settlement obligations and liabilities.
- 17.2 If your securities or securities collateral are received or held by the licensed or registered person in Hong Kong, the above arrangement is allowed only if you consent in writing. Moreover, unless you are a professional investor, your authority must specify the period for which it is current and be limited to not more than 12 months. If you are a professional investor, these restrictions do not apply.
- 17.3 Additionally, your authority may be deemed to be renewed (i.e. without your written consent) if the licensed or registered person issues you a reminder at least 14 days prior to the expiry of the authority, and you do not object to such deemed renewal before the expiry date of your then existing authority.
- 17.4 You are not required by any law to sign these authorities. But an authority may be required by licensed or registered persons, for example, to facilitate margin lending to you or to allow your securities or securities collateral to be lent to or deposited as collateral with third parties. The licensed or registered person should explain to you the purposes for which one of these authorities is to be used.
- 17.5 If you sign one of these authorities and your securities or securities collateral are lent to or deposited with third parties, those third parties will have a lien or charge on your securities or securities collateral. Although the licensed or registered person is responsible to you for securities or securities collateral lent or deposited under your authority, a default by it could result in the loss of your securities or securities collateral.
- 17.6 A cash account not involving securities borrowing and lending is available from most licensed or registered persons. If you do not require margin facilities or do not wish your securities or securities collateral to be lent or pledged, do not sign the above authorities and ask to open this type of cash account.
